5. [REDACTED] LIAISON Took a call from Allen Yuspeh, on the staff of Senator Bennett Johnston (D., La.), who wanted us to provide the Senator with the transcript of the Director's testimony on Israeli capabilities before the House International Relations Committee. After consulting with Mr. Cary, I called Yuspeh back and suggested to him that we could work something out along the lines of a briefing for the Senator. Yuspeh said that this would be fine, but that if possible the Senator would also like to see the text of the prepared statement for the House International Relations Committee.

6. [REDACTED] CONSTITUENT I took a call from Sheridan Crawford, on the staff of Representative John Krebs (D., Calif.), regarding a constituent inquiry into covert action. After a brief discussion it appeared that the constituent's inquiry was a serious one and could not be answered over the phone. I, therefore, asked Ms. Crawford to forward a copy of the letter to us and we would respond with something she could forward to the constituent.

7. [REDACTED] BRIEFING I met and accompanied Rick Gilmore, on the staff of the Subcommittee on Multinational Corporations, Senate Foreign Relations Committee, to a briefing in [REDACTED] office, OER, on Soviet grain as background for Gilmore's impending trip to Moscow. He also asked and was given tactical information on who to approach and how best to arrange it. He was given a publication entitled "Grain Handling Capability at Soviet Ports," for which he signed a receipt.

8. [REDACTED] LIAISON I stopped by the office of the Joint Committee on Printing to talk to Denver Dickerson, on the staff of the Committee, regarding the Federal Depository Library Program of the GPO. However, Mr. Dickerson was in conference all day and I was unable to see him.

9. [REDACTED] LIAISON I dropped by the office of Senator John A. Durkin (D., N. H.) to discuss his inquiry regarding the address of an Agency employee. However, he was away from the Hill and would not return until after the Thanksgiving recess.
